Panels

A New World (Dis)Order and its Economic Implications

Italy's Underperforming Economy and How to Fix It.

The Rimini Centre for Economic Analysis (RCEA) invites papers to be considered for its 2017 RCEA Macro-Money-Finance Workshop.

RCEA welcomes submissions for contributed sessions. While the workshop is intended for theoretical work or applied work in Macroeconomics, Monetary Economics, Finance and Public Finance, papers in any area of Economics and Finance in relation to the overarching theme of the workshop are welcome.

The 2017 RCEA Money and Finance Workshop will take place at Rimini Palacongressi www.riminipalacongressi.it, Rimini, Italy, May 18-19, 2017.

SUBMISSIONS

Authors should submit an extended abstract of up to 500 words. Please include with the submission JEL classification codes for the paper as well as keywords. Complete papers may be submitted but the extended abstract is required. In case of more than one author the name of presenter should be underlined.

To submit a paper please send the abstract/paper to Steve Ambler at ambler.steven@uqam.ca. Proposals for sessions, consisting of three or four papers, are particularly welcome. If you are interested in submitting a session, please send session topic, author names, titles and abstracts to the same address.

Extended submission deadline: March 10, 2017.

Authors will be notified by the workshop scientific committee's decision by March 15, 2017. Authors coming from countries with special visa requirements should specify so in their submission so that they can be notified as soon as possible.

There are no submission fees.

REGISTRATION

Registration starts on April 11, 2017 on the workshop page of our web site at www.rcfea.org. Fees: students €90; RCEA Senior Fellows and Fellows €180; Others: €280; Late Registration €380. The late fee will be applied starting May 1.

FURTHER INFORMATION

The Review of Economic Analysis (REA), www.rofea.org, an open access journal published by RCEA, is planning to publish a special issue from the workshop. The papers submitted to the special issue will go through the usual refereeing process. REA charges no submission or publication fees.

The registration fee will help cover expenses associated with general logistics. The conference fee includes the conference registration kit, a certificate of attendance, and workshop meals and coffee breaks.

On-line registration will be possible. All the conference rooms will be equipped with screen, projector, computer and overhead projector. Rimini offers excellent choices of accommodation near its beaches and its historic centre. RCEA has blocked off a large number of rooms at various hotels in Rimini at reduced rate. The accommodation list and the booking form as well as other details will be available at the RCEA web site (www.rcfea.org) after February 28, 2017. Information about past workshops and RCEA activities can be found on our web site.
