

RCEA Growth, Innovation and Entrepreneurship Conference

September 20-21, 2019, Lazaridis School of Business and Economics,
Wilfrid Laurier University, Waterloo, Ontario, Canada

Keynote speakers: John Haltiwagner, University of Maryland, College Park, NBER and IZA
Josh Lerner, Harvard Business School and NBER

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Rimini Centre for Economic Analysis (RCEA) and the Lazaridis Institute for the Management of Technology Enterprises invite papers to be considered for RCEA Growth, Innovation and Entrepreneurship Conference.

With the recent slowdown in economic growth, innovation and entrepreneurship have become two increasingly important areas of economic and management research. Growth results from the efforts of innovators and entrepreneurs, with new technologies replacing old ones. This is accelerated with the adoption of artificial intelligence, machine learning and robotics. The goal of this conference is to bring together leading researchers and policymakers to discuss and contribute to the understanding of issues related to economic growth, innovation and entrepreneurship. We welcome theoretical, empirical and policy oriented papers in all areas of economics and finance that relate to the overarching theme of the conference.

Keynote speakers

John Haltiwanger is the Dudley and Louisa Dillard Professor of Economics and Distinguished University Professor of Economics at the University of Maryland-College Park. His main contributions are the analysis of the determinants of firm-level job creation, job destruction, and economic performance and the development and study of longitudinal firm-level microdata.

Josh Lerner is the Jacob H. Schiff Professor of Investment Banking at HBS, the Head of the Entrepreneurial Management Unit and a co-director of the NBER Productivity, Innovation, and Entrepreneurship Program. His main contributions are his work on venture capital and private equity organizations, with a particular focus on innovation financing, as well as policies on innovation and how they impact firm strategy.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZERS

RCEA is a private, international non-profit organization dedicated to independent research in applied and theoretical economics and related fields. Originally established in Rimini, Italy, it is now headquartered at Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, with branches in Italy and Poland.

The Lazardis Institute for the Management of Technology Enterprises was established to help Canadian technology companies become globally competitive. It helps firms reach their next level of growth through innovative programs, a global network of expert mentors, and rigorous research.

RCEA has organized numerous conferences and workshops. Past invited speakers include Nobel Prize laureates Robert Mundell and Michael Spence as well as, among others, Philippe Aghion, Costas Azariadis, Larry Ball, Steven Cecchetti, Gilles Duranton, Gauthi Eggertsson, Elhanan Helpman, David Hendry, Peter Howitt, Charles Jones, Thomas Lemieux, Hashem Pesaran, Peter C. B. Phillips, James Robinson, Steven Ross and Arnold Zellner.

SUBMISSIONS
