Rimini Bayesian Econometrics Workshop

CALL FOR PAPERS

7th Rimini Bayesian Econometrics Workshop

June 25-26, 2013, University of Bologna, Rimini Campus, Italy

The Rimini Centre for Economic Analysis (<http://www.rcfea.org/>) is pleased to announce that the 7th Rimini Bayesian Econometrics Workshop (RCEA-BEW7) will run on June 25-26, 2013.

The keynote speakers are:

Fabio Canova, European University Institute;

Sylvia Frühwirth-Schnatter, Vienna University of Economics and Business;

Mike West, Duke University.

In addition to these presentations, the workshop will have contributed sessions. We would welcome submissions for these contributed sessions. Submissions for the contributed sessions should be sent to secretary@rcfea.org by the end of Monday 6th May 2013.

The registration fee is €140.00. The registration fee for graduate students is €70.00. RCEA registered scholars are exempt from paying the registration fee.

The fee includes one lunch on each day of the workshop, one dinner and coffee breaks but do not include the hotel. Workshop participants may book their stay at the preferential rates available to the Centre. For further information, fee payment and hotel booking please contact secretary@rcfea.org.

Note the 2nd Rimini Time Series Econometrics Workshop (RCEA-TSW2) will be running 27-28 June, 2013 with a welcome reception on 26 June. Delegates wishing to participate in both workshops would pay a single fee of €200.00 (€100,00 for graduate students) for the 2 workshops.
